Christy Consler is a thought-provoking and energizing speaker and executive coach. She inspires and equips professionals globally to lead with great purpose, passion, and performance.

With her proven track record coaching, training, and speaking to thousands of leaders at dynamic global organizations, Christy is adept at bringing out the best in people and stretching them to new levels of success.

People are yearning for a sense of greater purpose, meaning, and belonging in their work and company cultures. Drawing from her experience as a top executive herself in Fortune 50 companies and high-growth startups,

Christy shares the truths and the myths about authentically engaging hearts and minds to achieve sustainable leadership success that makes a big impact.

Named one of the Top 100 Women in a $600 billion industry three years in a row, Christy knows how to blaze a trail and make a difference. Girl Scouts named her one of the Top 100 Women Greening the Future in Northern California. She earned an MBA from Wharton Business School, and a BS from Cornell University.

Christy led the development of a highly-acclaimed Fortune 50 leadership institute, and in her signature leadership development program for high potential women, 95% of participants who set a goal of getting promoted achieved their goal. Under her leadership, her former multi-billion dollar employer won numerous awards as the most ethical, sustainable, and socially responsible organization in its industry.

Christy inspires with leadership and life lessons from the heart, as she helps and challenges high achievers and organizations globally create a more positive, sustainable future.
